SERVICE

AND SUPPORT

We're not satisfied simply providing a quality product. We're committed to quality service and support, as well.

We promise prompt product availability and after-sale service. Our sales representatives are located throughout the U.S. and Canada, so wherever you are, we can be there, too.

We also offer you design and engineering support, product photos, 3-dimensional drawings, sizing charts, specifications and installation details, all designed to make the job of specifying much more accurate and easier, too. We provide an autocad disk with product installation details that is available on the internet.

At V.I.T., we offer more than you might expect, and we're sure you expect the best.
